There was a very nice and beautiful river bank

There lived a crab with his small baby crab

One day small baby crab asked her father....
Daddy, can I go to near by jungle alone ?
iskcondesiretree.com

My child, you are now very small so you should not move around alone, understood ?
iskcondesiretree.com

Ok, daddy, do not worry, I will do whatever you say

Inspite of the instructions given, the baby crab went into the jungle alone

The baby crab was moving all around happily on the green grass

Suddenly a Jackal arrived there
Since when I was feeling hungry and look at this my food is coming straight to me

And the Jackal grabbed the baby crab in its mouth

Yes, kill me, I deserve this, I did not listen to my daddy

Before the baby crab could speak something more, it was dead.

MORAL :

Whatever our parents tell us is for our good, we must listen to them
